Deep Down Dark by Hector Tobar

When the San José mine collapsed outside of Copiapó, Chile, in August 2010, it trapped thirty-three miners beneath thousands of feet of rock for sixty-nine days. After the disaster, Pulitzer Prize-winning journalist Héctor Tobar received exclusive access to the miners and their haunting stories. This masterwork of narrative journalism is a stirring testament to the power of the human spirit and captures the profound ways in which the lives of everyone involved were forever changed.

Synopsis: As Evil takes over the world beyond their front doorstep, the only protection for a mother and her twin sons is their house and their family's protective bond. Needing to stay connected at all times (even tethering themselves with ropes), they cling to one another, urging each other to never let go. However, when one of the boys begins to doubt the existence of The Evil, the sacred bond of family is severed.
