

WPL NEWSLETTER

NOVEMBER 2026

WRITE IT OUT AND WIN

One of the national celebrations November is known for is National Novel Writing Month. Every year people try their best to develop good writing habits and hit that grand goal of writing an entire novel. Many published books have come from this challenge, such as You Had Me at Hola by Alexis Daria, Cinder by Marissa Meyer, and Wool by Hugh Howey, which is the source material for the TV show Silo.

To help encourage local young people to pick up their own (literal or figurative) pens and dive into writing, Westchester Public Library offers its annual Write it Up, Write it Out writing contest for tweens and teens in grades 5-12. By submitting a written work, whether it be an essay, short story, or poem, that is no longer than 5 pages before the end of November, participants have a chance to win a $100 Amazon gift card. Check out the full contest instructions on our website, or find the event poster on the next page of the newsletter.

And in case that isn't enough, teens in grades 7-12 are also invited to chat about fanfiction, whether they write it, read it, or want to learn more about it, at our Fandom Chat program on November 18.

Of course, our youth are not the only ones with the potential to write a story! As the temperature drops, encouraging us to stay indoors, why not make this a month to try your own hand at writing? If you were looking for a sign to start a novel, try journaling, or even compile your family history, let this be it. This November, fight that fear, or the little voice in your head saying you don't have time, and try writing. You never know, maybe one day you'll see your book on our shelves.

The Lost City of Z
by David Grann

For centuries Europeans believed the Amazon, the world's largest rain forest, concealed the glittering kingdom of El Dorado. Thousands had died looking for it, leaving many scientists convinced that the Amazon was truly inimical to humankind. In 1925, British explorer Percy Fawcett ventured into the Amazon to find an ancient civilization, hoping to make one of the most important discoveries in history. Then he vanished. Over the years countless perished trying to find evidence of his party and the place he called "The Lost City of Z."

The Haunting of Hill House
by Shirley Jackson

First published in 1959, Shirley Jackson's The Haunting of Hill House has been hailed as a perfect work of unnerving terror. It is the story of four seekers who arrive at a notoriously unfriendly pile called Hill House: Dr. Montague, an occult scholar looking for solid evidence of a "haunting"; At first, their stay seems destined to be merely a spooky encounter with inexplicable phenomena. But Hill House is gathering its powers—and soon it will choose one of them to make its own.
